

Truth about rrxxyz

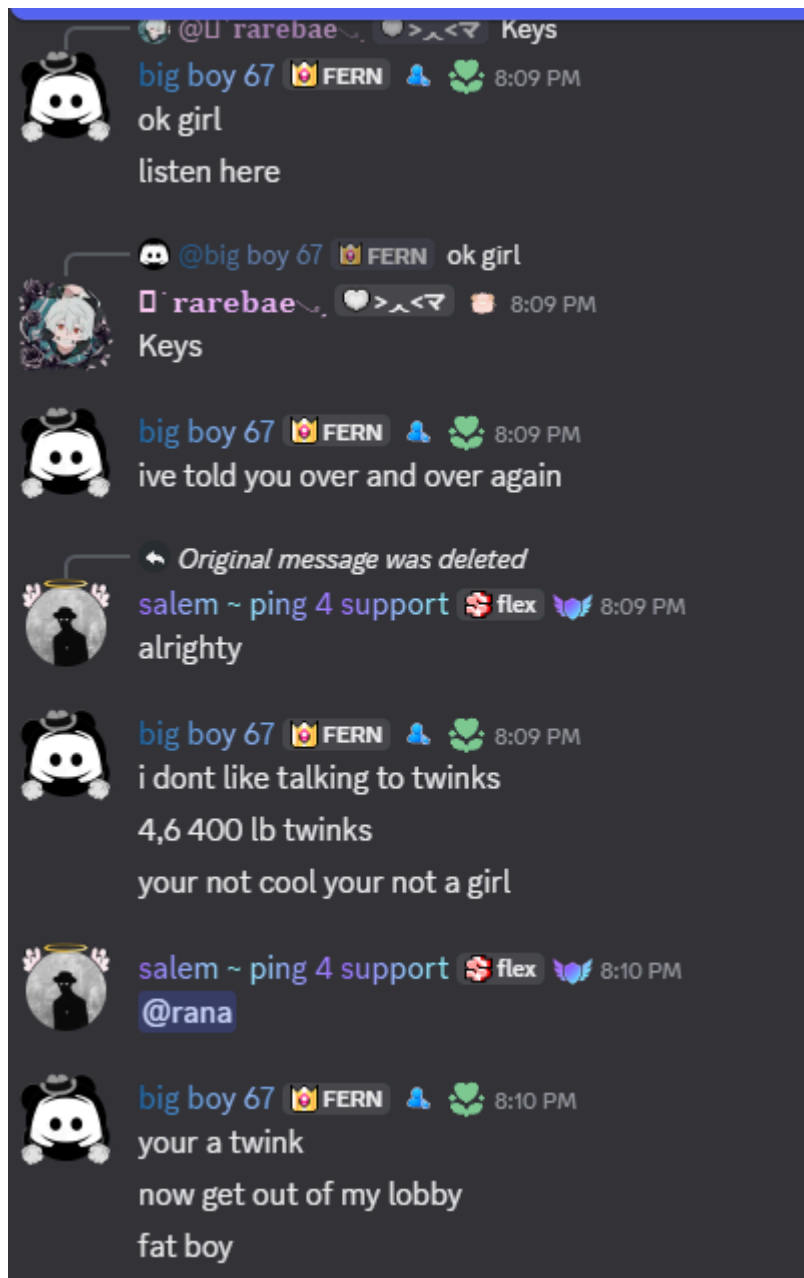

I'm going to address the situation involving rrxxyz and provide context on what happened. He joined the chat saying he was in "enemy territory," which meant he was intending racist comments to begin with. (said in tab 3) The conversation quickly turned into arguments where multiple comments were made targeting people personally rather than discussing the actual topic. Across the screenshots, there is a pattern of disrespectful behaviour incl. where people are from, backgrounds, and personal beliefs clashing with his own entitlement. The messages caused several people in the chat to feel attacked and led to further conflict. Instead of having a normal conversation, the situation escalated through repeated insults and offensive remarks. He hasn't been banned yet, but he will likely face punishment for what he's said and what he's done as something as severe like this isn't to be left unpunished.

Reason for expose: homophobia, racism and causing overall disruption

The image shows Discord messages where the user argues with someone and makes comments about their gender identity and appearance. They repeatedly call the person terms such as “twink” and “boy” while also insulting them with “fat boy.” He uses weight to outweigh the fact he’s clearly upset about his own appearance.

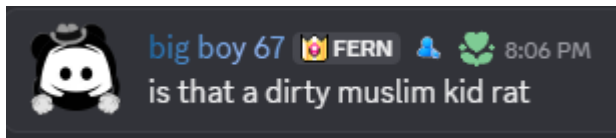

He goes on and talks about LGBTQ+ people and religion. He compares LGBTQ+ struggles to people living in poorer countries and suggest those struggles are less important. They also reference something being “haram,” applying their own religious beliefs to others who may not share the same religion. The context is that the user appears dismissive of other people’s experiences and does not recognise that people are allowed to have different beliefs and identities.

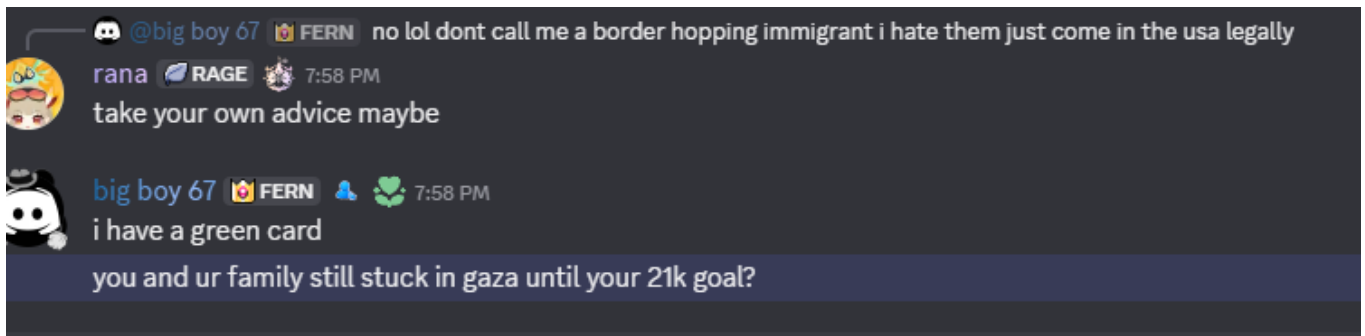

The image shows Discord messages where the user argues that they can make offensive jokes because someone else joked about death threats. They then insult another person by calling them “little twink boy.” he starts to go into “joking about smth else” so instead of being a normal person and pointing out other peoples problems to staff he decides he’s so entitled that he makes jokes about racism found on the next tab.

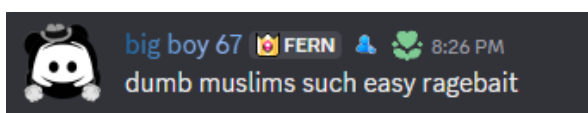

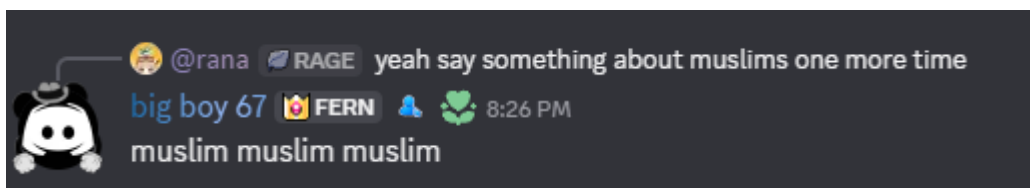

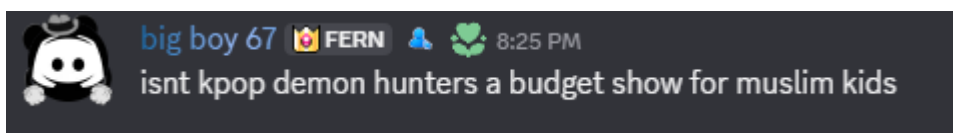

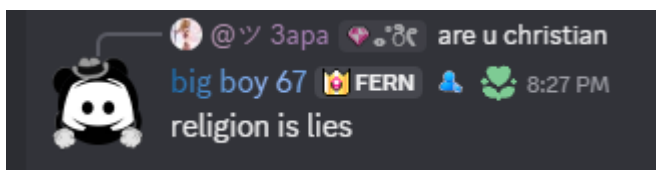

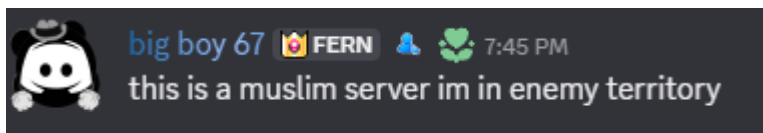

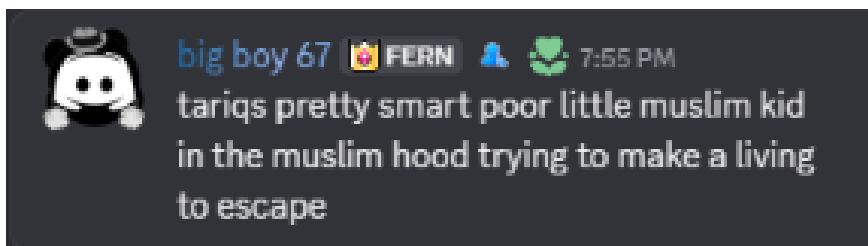

He starts calling people fat, insulting people talking about dildo's which is nsfw references.

He's talking about muslims being dirty, ironic how the religion of islam is about cleanliness?

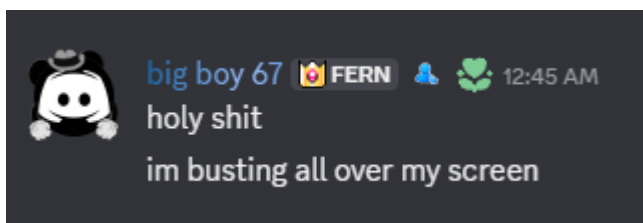

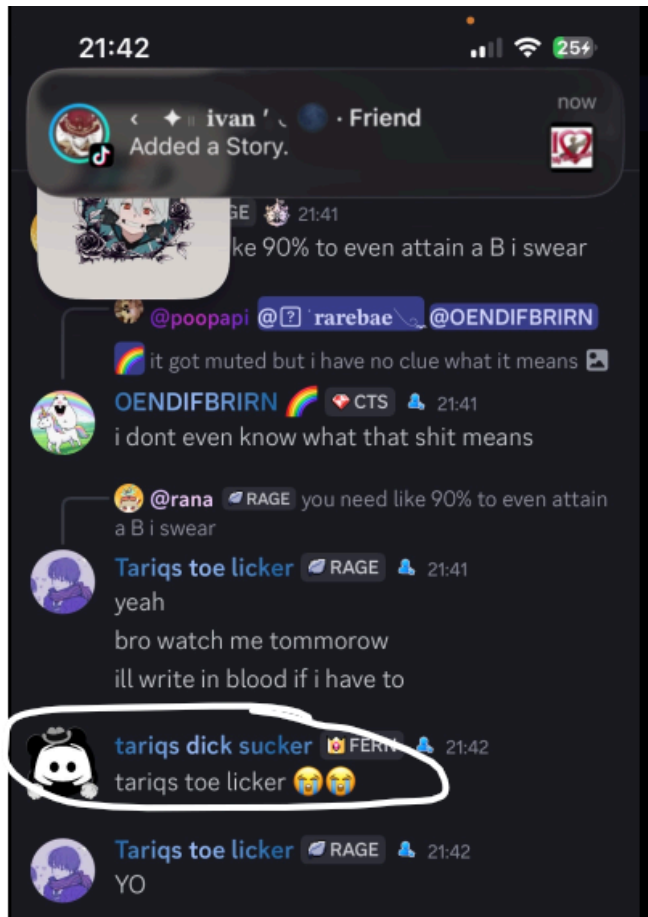

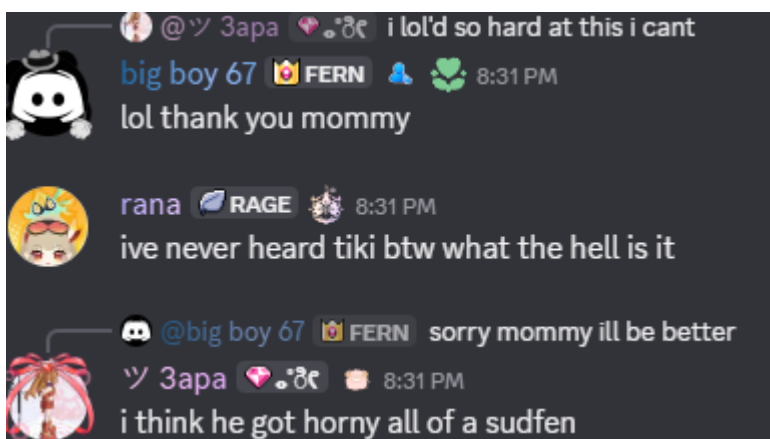

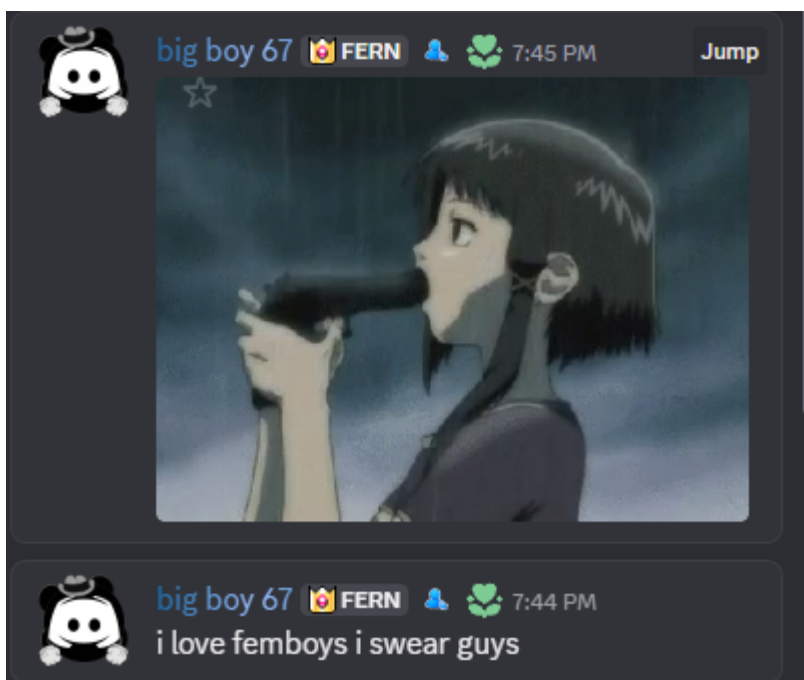

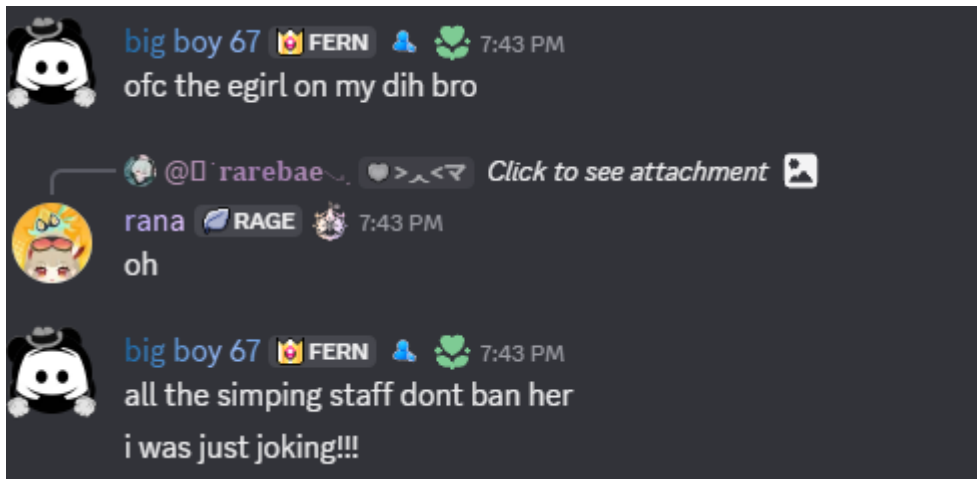

The image shows Discord messages where the user brings up immigration and another person's family situation during an argument. Comments about a "green card" and being "stuck in Gaza" rana is from an area which is currently targetted by war so insulting a member of staff at ragesploit especially when it comes to race is a big no no as is correct?

Random shit

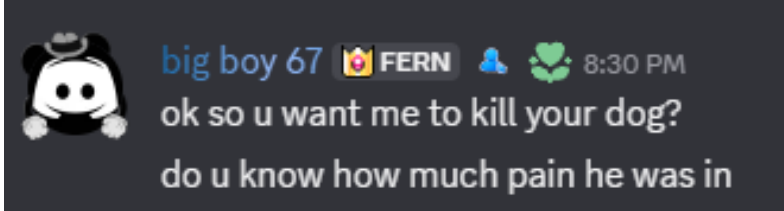

This has shit i don't know how to explain.

You probably popped his cherry .2ara
